Vážená pani riaditeľka, dovoľujem si Vám postúpiť list, ktorý bol dňa 14.2.2020 doručený na MPRV SR Ambasádou Indonézskej republiky v súvislosti s plánovaným summitom zameranom na „halal“ priemysel, ktorý organizuje vláda Indonézskej republiky v Jakarte, v dňoch 28. októbra – 2. novembra 2020, s témou „propagácia halal priemyselného odvetvia na účely globálnej prosperity“.

Cieľom summitu je poslúžiť ako platforma pre zúčastnených vládnych predstaviteľov a podnikateľov, vďaka ktorej môžu priamo diskutovať o nových možnostiach a výzvach v halal priemysle. Stretnutie bude rovnako slúžiť na od komunikovanie zásad a odporúčaní, ktoré umožnia posilnenie priemyselnej oblasti halal.

Oblasť halal priemyslu ponúka do budúcnosti sľubné možnosti. Islamská ekonomika, ktorej jednotlivé sektory sú ovplyvnené islamskými tradíciami a právom, si vybudovali silnú základňu do budúcnosti globálnej ekonomiky. Ide o sektory s halal potravinami, šatstvom, cestovaním, kozmetikou, liečivami, médiami a islamskými finančnými službami.

Počas prvých štyroch dní 28. – 31. októbra 2020 summit poskytne možnosti pre B2B spoluprácu, ktorej súčasťou bude match-making stretnutie, ako aj výstavy jednotlivých produktov a služieb. Zasadnutia ohľadom posilnenia globálnych reťazcov halal priemyslu, islamského finančného sektoru na podporu halal priemyslu, budovania malých a stredných obchodov a digitálnej ekonomiky sa uskutočnia počas 1. – 2. novembra 2020. Výsledky summitu budú následne zhrnuté v deklarácii halal priemyslu.

V prílohe Vám pripájame celú dokumentáciu.

S úctou

Vážená pani
Dr. Jana VENHARTOVÁ
riaditeľka PKS

CONCEPT NOTE

HALAL INDUSTRIES SUMMIT 2020:

“PROMOTING HALAL INDUSTRIES FOR GLOBAL PROSPERITY”

Jakarta, 1-2 November 2020

BACKGROUND

The potentials and opportunities in the future of global halal industry are huge and promising. The Islamic economy — consisting of economic sectors whose core products and services are structurally affected by Islamic ethics and law — has established an increasingly important footing in the future global economy. The sectors are halal food, fashion, travel, cosmetics, pharmaceuticals, media and Islamic financial services. Global Muslim consumers spent US$2.2 trillion in 2018, mostly in the food, pharmaceutical and lifestyle sectors. The number is expected to reach $3.2 trillion by 2024, while Islamic financial assets are forecasted to reach $2.5 trillion in 2018¹

Today's global halal market is no longer confined to food and food-related products. With the increase in the number of affluent Muslims, the halal industry has expanded further into lifestyle offerings including halal travel and hospitality services as well as fashion. This development has triggered by a revolutionary change in Muslim consumers mindset as well as ethical consumer trends worldwide.

Halal is not limited to OIC Countries or Islamic countries, thus global governance on halal industry is very crucial in creating understanding and cooperating with Muslims in Non-OIC Countries to regulate issues for them. In this regard, capacity building and training to better understand halal awareness, the probabilities of halal market and future development will become important steps in ensuring the development of global halal ecosystem and standards. It also presents the need of global cooperation on halal accreditation and certification in order to promote better international trade on halal products and services.

The current and potential social impact of each of the halal industry sectors to the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) for 2030 is also massive. Halal industries including halal products, Islamic finance and halal lifestyle have contributed to the attainment of SDG Goals. Islamic social financing mechanism through Zakat and Sadaqah have also gained the major attention of global multilateral institutions including the World Bank, UNHCR and UNESCO. In fact, there is still much room for development, but addressing SDGs is an important way forward for halal industries, so as to develop in a forward thinking and ethical manner.

The SDG goals are a great reference point for the future of halal industries as they cover many of similar and related concerns and reflect the beneficiary needs of the global community.

The impact of fourth industry revolution on halal industry is also affecting the way we conduct business in halal industry and bring transformation to entire systems of production, management and governance. The utilization of digital economy to provide greater market access to halal industry is something that we also need to explore going forward.

As a way of responding the current developments in global halal industry, the Government of Indonesia will hold an Indonesia-Middle East and Islamic Countries Summit on Halal Industries 2020 in Jakarta, on November, 2020 with the theme "Promoting Halal Industries for Global Prosperity". The summit will host head of states/governments, and related ministries, institutions, as well as stakeholders in charge of halal industry in their respective countries from the global halal value chains around the world.

The summit will become a platform for governments and stakeholders in the global halal industry to discuss opportunities and challenges in today's halal industry and how to better formulate global policy recommendations to strengthen halal industry. The summit will also enable business match-making and future cooperation between business sectors.

OBJECTIVES

The Summit is expected to become a platform for governments and stakeholders in the global halal industries to discuss opportunities and challenges in today's halal industries and how to better formulate global policy recommendations to strengthen halal industries. The summit will also enable business match-making and future cooperation between business sectors.

For that purpose, the summit will facilitate discussions on the following issues:

1. Strengthening global value chain of halal industries.
2. Deepening mutual understanding on how halal industries will help the achievement of SDGs.
3. Promoting synergy among networks, forums, Islamic finance institutions, halal certification schemes etc aimed at enhancing halal industries ecosystem and standards.
4. Facilitating greater international trade and investment in halal industries.
5. Intensifying technical cooperation in the field of capacity building, particularly for small-and-medium-enterprises.
6. Capitalizing on the industry 4.0 and the digital economy to accelerate the advancement of halal industries.

The summit will also provide opportunities for business to business cooperation, including through business match-making and trade exhibitions.

FORMAT OF THE SUMMIT

The President of the Republic of Indonesia is expected to deliver remarks on the opening of the summit. The summit will be attended by 20 Middle-East and North Africa (MENA) countries, 37 OIC or Islamic Countries beyond MENA, and 20 potential partners or approximately 78 delegates consisting of:
